

Dickman Farms

GREENHOUSES & GARDEN CENTER

Sat. April 17th - 8am-6pm
Sun. April 18th - 10am-5pm

Whether you are just beginning to garden or an experienced gardener....Dickman Farms has a weekend geared to turning your thumb green this spring! Dickman Farms Va Va Bloom Garden Show on Sat. April 17th & Sun. April 18th will be bigger and better than ever! The weekend is filled with fun for the entire family including a live plant auction and silent auction to benefit the Auburn Beautification Commission, exciting guest speakers, how to's and demonstrations, fun workshops, a pizza garden party for the kids, and a behind the scenes tour of the production facility greenhouses and more! Plus help plant flowering container gardens that will benefit Cayuga County Habitat for Humanity.

Got Questions? Learn about Roses, Water Garden Features, Vegetable Gardening, Perennials, Fruits, and Gorgeous Container Gardens. Join Terry Ettinger on Sunday April 18th at 11am for "Let's Plant it" and learn how to select the right plant for the right location and how to keep your plants healthy. It's all happening inside at Dickman Farms Garden Center.

Two Fun Spring Events that will get you planting for a great cause!

Dickman Farms Greenhouses and Garden Center invites you to the Va Va Bloom Garden Show on Saturday April 17th from 12pm-2pm to plant a Container Garden that will benefit Cayuga County Habitat for Humanity. It's absolutely free to plant a container! The container, soil and flowering plants will be provided. Each container will then be nurtured in Dickman Farms greenhouses until they are in full bloom. The Container Gardens will be offered to our shoppers in a Silent Auction on Sat. May 22nd, 11am-3pm at Dickman Farms. All proceeds from the Silent Auction will benefit Cayuga County Habitat for Humanity.
